Gorham says no man should stand in the way of harmony. Then why don't Gorham step one side?

Colonel Tom Scott has conquered a great many railways, and now it seems that he will get away with death.

Hardly a day passes but that Postmaster General James saves the government four or five times the amount of his salary.

Garfield doesn't want to be mentioned about being renominated in 1884. All he wants is to be allowed to be President in 1881.

The hotter it grows in Washington the more hopeful the situation becomes. The sun is sure to break the dead lock.

Since Mr. Tilden took the dog prize he has dropped from public view and consideration. Samuel doesn't stay long on the surface.

The brewers began a session in Chicago on Wednesday, and that city is happy. When you talk of beer you make Milwaukee and Chicago smile.

Marvelous are the triumphs of the United States government, and the late triumph of Secretary Windom is one that ranks with the very greatest.

The administration has gained one point in the confirmation of Stanley Matthews for the Supreme Bench, but it is a point over which it won't do to crow very much.

Of the twelve New York nominations, the President gave Conkling eleven and took only one himself. The little war was made because the Senator did not get the one from the President.

There will be no more dinners given to Dorsey as Secretary of the Republican National committee. The men who spoke at that complimentary dinner a month since, feel like taking back all they said.

The Legislature of Illinois is still in session, and is likely to be for some time to come, as the members get five dollars a day. There is nothing that will make a legislative session spin out so much as a good per diem.

The Milwaukee Sentinel supports the Gazette's proposition to hold the State convention after harvest, and then adds: "The mass of the people are not so hungry for politics that they want to start in on a campaign for the November election in midsummer."

Eighteen years ago Mr. Emerson Gaylord, of Chicopee, Massachusetts, put $50,000 in the Gaylord manufacturing company. Last week he sold his original stock and this with the dividends he drew from the company gave him a fortune of $500,000.

Bob Ingersoll puts the Garfield-Conkling matter in this way: "When two are riding the same horse, one must ride behind." The question is, shall Mr. Conkling ride before? He wants the President to take a back seat and the President objects. That is the issue in a nutshell.

It is a boon to the poor prisoners in Austria when a member of the royal family gets married. Royal wedding bring about numerous gifts and pardons to prisoners. When Stephanie was married last Tuesday, 331 prisoners were pardoned, and 32 scholarships were founded at various schools.

It has been repeatedly said that Senators in a body have called at the White House to urge the President to back down for the sake of harmony. Wouldn't it be well for these Senators to go in a body to Senator Conkling and ask him for the sake of harmony to backdown. He first began the war on the administration, and for the sake of peace, justice, and common sense, he should do a little of the backing down.

Colonel J. A. Watrous, President of the Wisconsin press association, has issued a call for the twenty-fourth annual meeting to take place at Oconomowoc, on Monday, June 20. After a day spent in business, a train of Pullman cars will take the members of the association to Washington, and from there excursions will be made to the battle fields of Bull Run, Antietam, Gettysburg, Fredericksburg, and the most interesting of all places on the continent—Mount Vernon. Colonel Watrous desires a full attendance at the annual meeting so that business of importance may be generally discussed and properly attended to.

The work of ascertaining the number of acres of government lands belonging to this State, is being prosecuted in Washington. For several years attempts have been made to learn correctly how many acres of these lands the State was entitled to, but the labor never brought forth any definite results. Governor Smith is anxious to have the matter settled before his administration closes, and it is thought that about 250,000 acres of swamp lands will be found due the State. Besides this, the State officers claim that the proceeds from sales made by the United States of lands which belong to Wisconsin shall be paid into the treasury. It was thought that the number of acres would reach nearly half a million but investigation reveals the fact that not much more than half that amount belongs to the State. Should the State recover the proceeds from the lands which have already been sold and which properly belonged to Wisconsin, the amount which will go into the treasury, will be quite a large sum.

It is a good thing to remember John Howard Payne in building the church of St. Augustine, at Tunis, in Africa. In that magnificent church, though built by the English, there will be a memorial window to that American whose memory will always be deeply cherished—the author of "Home, Sweet Home." Payne has a name as wide as the world and it will last as long as there is such a thing as "Home, Sweet Home." John Howard Payne's precocity was wonderful. He was born in New York, in 1792, and at the age of only 13, while clerk in a counting-house, he edited a weekly paper and did it well, and at 18 he made a highly successful debut at the Park Theatre, and before he was 21 he had achieved great success as an actor in London and in Dublin. While in London he produced a large number of dramas, chiefly adaptations from the French, and in one of them, "Clari, or the Maid of Milan," occurs the famous song which has been sung in every country on the globe—"Home, Sweet Home." That drama and song made fortunes for all concerned in it except Payne, and he died comparatively poor. He was consul to Tunis twice, from 1811 to 1815, and from 1851 to 1852 when he died. The United States government has erected a monument over his remains at Tunis, which lie in the cemetery of St. George; and the kindly act of the English to make a memorial window in the church of St. Augustine, will be deeply appreciated by every American who has a home to love.

A NEW INDUSTRY FOR AMERICAN WOMEN.

There is an association called the Women's Silk Culture Association, and its first annual meeting was held in Philadelphia a few days ago. The object of this association is rational and practical, and is to help the condition of American women by inducing farmers' wives and daughters in this country to add silk culture to their other industries. To some, this may appear as impracticable as Le Duc's tea farming, but after examining the subject they will find that there is nothing to prevent the successful culture of silk in the United States. The manufacture of silk in this country is rapidly increasing every year, but it is a fact all the raw silk used by our manufacturers is imported. It is said by persons who are competent to speak, that the climate and soil of many of the States of the Union, particularly in the South, are as well suited for the culture of silk as France and Italy.

The silk culture is carried on to a large extent in these countries, and it is the opinion of many persons that it would be idle to attempt to compete with them in the culture of silk for two reasons. The first is that labor is much cheaper in Europe than in this country, and therefore it would not pay any man or woman to attempt the culture of silk on a scale which would necessitate the hiring of many hands, because the price which they would be compelled to pay would greatly reduce the profits. But the plan suggested is, that the women of the household could carry on this industry themselves with the assistance of one or two boys or girls during the busy season. It is claimed that this would pay the women well for their labor, and beside that it would render the country an important service. When carried on in this manner the capital required is surprisingly small. The trays can be made at home, and besides these, an ounce of eggs, a book of instructions, and good supply of leaves, are all the capital required. The Women's Association have the eggs for sale at a price that barely covers the original cost, and books of instruction can also be procured of them.

Another difficulty which is said will hinder the culture of silk in the United States is the lack of filatures in this country. They are small rears, a finely made instrument for drawing off silk from the cocoons. In Europe these filatures are extensively used and were patented in that country. In this respect Yankee genius is lagging, but it is said that an American has nearly finished a filature which will be a great improvement on those used in Europe. Should this filature prove a success the greatest difficulty in the way of cultivating silk would be removed.

Our silk manufactures are on the increase, and very rapidly. Last year over $15,000,000 worth of silk was manufactured in New Jersey alone. Then again, some idea can be obtained in regard to the growth of the industry in this country, by comparing the importation of raw silk. In 1878, the amount was only $5,000,000. In 1879 it ran up to $8,000,000, and last year it took a leap to $12,000,000. In order to encourage the culture of silk in this country a mercantile firm in Philadelphia, has offered a prize of $500 for the best four pounds of cocoons.

SUICIDAL.

OMAHA, Neb., May 12.—A man about 40 years old came here a week ago and registered at the hotel as B. L. Pratt, of Galesburg, Ill. He had been looking for work, but was unsuccessful, and was very despondent yesterday. He was found this morning in his room with his throat cut from ear to ear. He killed himself with a pocket knife. On the wastebasket were two letters, one to his wife and one to his son Frank, both in Galesburg. To the former he gave his trunk, to the latter his shirt-studs. Deceased did not have the appearance of a dissipated man.

THE SITUATION.

Very Little Hope of Harmony between the President and Senator Conkling.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Quite a number of Republican Senators called upon the President to day in the interest of what is called "harmony" between the Executive and Mr. Conkling. Among the callers this morning were Messrs. Logan, Plumb, Harrison, McMillan, Saunders, and Sawyer, and other Senators visited the White House this evening. None of the visitors received any assurance that the President would withdraw Mr. Robertson's nomination. There is a radical difference of opinion between the Senators and President Garfield as to the means by which harmony can be obtained, and there seems to be no manner in which the difference can be healed. The friends of the Senators from New York think that the President should withdraw Mr. Robertson's name, and the friends of the President believe that Mr. Robertson should be confirmed. There seems to be no middle ground upon which both parties can settle.

STANLEY MATTHEWS.

He is Confirmed Associate Justice by One Majority—The Reason.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Stanley Matthews was confirmed to be an associate justice of the supreme court to-day by one majority in the Senate. The vote stood 21 negative to 25 affirmative, but Senator Vance, of North Carolina, who is paired, voted in the affirmative, believing that the Senator with whom he is paired would also vote for confirmation. "Had the Democrats been evenly divided," said a Republican Senator to-night. The whole story is told in these words. He secured the officially Democratic assistance.

The executive session of the Senate to-day was almost exclusively devoted to the consideration of Mr. Matthews. Senator Logan made a long speech in opposition to Mr. Matthews, his principal point being that the President should have selected a man from the Seventh Illinois circuit for the place. He showed that the Ohio circuit had on the supreme bench already more than its proper quota of judges, and that the Illinois circuit should be given a representative in the court.

John Sherman and Senator Pendleton were the principal champions of Mr. Matthews, and Senator Edmunds, of the judiciary committee, opposed confirmation, on the ground that Mr. Matthews did not believe in the constitutionality of the Thurman act compelling the Pacific railroads to comply with the provisions of the congressional acts relating to those roads. Only one Senator from the vacant circuit, it is said, voted for Matthews, namely, Harrison, of Indiana.

A Senator said to-day that it took the combined influence of the administration and the Democratic leaders to carry him through. There were two chief reasons for the opposition to his confirmation, viz., his position upon the Pacific railroad acts and the fact that all the circuits but the Seventh are represented on the Supreme bench. Senator Harrison's vote, in favor of Mr. Matthews, is sharply criticized by the opposition, who maintain that he should have thrown his influence against the confirmation of any nominee taken from a State other than his own, Wisconsin or Illinois.

FATAL ROPE-JUMPING.

MILWAUKEE, May 12.—A special from Racine to the Republican says: "This morning Anne Myrtle, a girl 13 years of age, died from the effects of jumping a rope. She jumped 102 times, which injured her brain and also injured her internally. Her sufferings were terrible until death relieved her."

GOING AHEAD.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Pushing on from Monroe to Gratiot.

GALENA, May 12.—The contract for grading the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, from Monroe to Gratiot, specifies that grading shall be completed on or before the 1st day of September next. The contract between the railroad company and the people of Shullsburg states that the road shall be completed and cars running as soon as the 1st day of October. It is now understood that the grading will be commenced in about two weeks. The right of way between Gratiot and Shullsburg has been mostly secured. In some instances the roadway will have to be condemned and the prices fixed by the court. The work of track-laying from Monroe to Gratiot is now in process, about two miles of track having been already laid on the Monroe end of the road. This important branch, which is sure to be extended to Galena, has been talked of periodically for the last twenty years, and now that it is really to be built, the people along the route, who have had no railroad facilities, are wild with joy.

FENTON'S OPINION.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Ex-Governor Fenton was asked to-day to give his views upon the Robertson nomination. He was very decided in his opinion that Judge Robertson would be confirmed. In substance he said: "Even if I had the leisure to speak upon the political situation at Washington I could hardly say more than that the party Western New York, and I think throughout the State and country, is with the President. In view of the conceded fitness of Judge Robertson and the authority of the President to nominate, the sentiment in favor of his confirmation is well-nigh universal. The withdrawal of his name under the circumstances would be considered as a weakness on the part of the President, harmful to him, and mischievous as a precedent."

GOOD BYE, LORNE.

ST. PAUL, May 12.—The St. Paul Dispatch says it is permitted to publish from an authentic and reliable source the definite information that the Marquis of Lorne has communicated to members of the Canadian government his determination to retire from the governor-generalship after his Manitoba journey. This decision has been reached after careful and prolonged consultation with his father, the Duke of Argyll, and friends on both sides of the water. The principal political reason which leads to this determination is the fact that the Marquis does not find his relations with the Gladstone ministry altogether harmonious.

GREEK MEETS GREEK.

LA CROSSE, May 12.—A special from Black River Falls this afternoon says a fist fight ensued to-day between T. F. Hollister, editor of the Democrat, and E. J. Castle, editor of the Independent. The attack was made by Hollister, who was well warmed with bad whisky. Hollister had taken offense because Castle had replied to an article which appeared in the Democrat of Saturday last. During the fight Castle pulled nearly all the chin beard from Hollister's face and bruised him badly. Hollister beat a hasty retreat to his home, and has not since been seen. Sympathy seems to be with Castle, as the quarrel was unprovoked by him. The end is not yet, as Hollister intends having Castle arrested.

GOVERNOR SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The popular chief magistrate of Wisconsin, Governor William E. Smith, accompanied by his wife, and by State Senator Van Schaick and wife, are spending the week in Washington, and stopping at the Elkhill house. Various well-known citizens of Wisconsin, who are sojourning at Washington, personally known to them, called at their parlors last evening, including Senator Cameron, Commissioner Bentley, Mrs. Sedgwick, and others. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Van Schaick have called on Mrs. Garfield, and in her illness were hospitably received by the President's mother. To-day the party visited Mount Vernon.

DRUNK AGAIN.

LIVERPOOL, May 12.—J. K. Emmett was released to-day. When he was conveyed to the work-house hospital yesterday afternoon in a semi-delirious state he mistook its gloomy corridors for the luxurious splendor of hotel and kept crying for drink. He was placed in a room by himself in lunatic ward, an apartment devoted to the better class of patients being selected. This morning Mr. Emmett was much better and demanded to be released. The senior house surgeon did not feel justified in retaining him in view of the improvement in Mr. Emmett's condition. Mr. Emmett was therefore released.

EXORBITANT FEES.

MILWAUKEE, May 12.—Dr. Bullard, of Delavan, was before the United States commissioner this morning charged with demanding and receiving exorbitant fees in securing a pension for a widow. It was set forth against him that he had asked and received $200 instead of the legal fee of $10. Defense was that the penal part of the law under which this action obtained had been repealed. The case is under advisement, and in the meantime Dr. Bullard is at large on his own recognizance.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

JOAQUIN MILLER ON THE INDIAN BURIAL SHADOWS OF SHASTA.—By Joaquin Miller, author of Songs of the Sierras, etc. Chicago: Jansen, McClurg & Co. For sale in Janesville by James Sutherland and Sons. Cloth, 12 mo price $1.

The object of this little book from the pen of the poet of the Sierras, is succinctly stated in this prefatory paragraph:

Why this book? Because last year, in the heart of the Sierras, I saw women and children chained together and marched down from their cool, healthy homes to degradation and death on the reservation. At the side of this long, chained line, urged on and kept in order by bayonets, rode a young officer, splendid in gold and brass, and newly-burnished, from that now famous charity-school on the Hudson. These women and children were guilty of no crime, they were not even accused of wrong. But their fathers and brothers lay dead in battle-harness, on the mountain heights and in the lava beds; and the few silent survivors, like Israel of old, were led into captivity—but, unlike the chosen children never to return to the beloved heart of their mountains.

Shadows of Shasta is a romance founded on the abuses of the Indian system. But the fascination is dulled by the reflection that the facts related therein are substantially true. In truth, it is more of an argument in behalf of the wretched victims of post-trader and reservation runners, than it is a story—it is an illustrated argument, and a powerful appeal. That the mission of the book, the attempt to present the Indian side of the pitiful reservation picture, will do good in at least influencing popular judgment, which is in the main too harsh against the Nation's wards, is to be sincerely hoped. The style of the little work is forcible, piquant and in Mr. Miller's best and most characteristic vein.

KNIGHTS OF TO-DAY: or Love and Science. By Charles Barnard. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 26, price $1. For sale in Janesville by the local trade.

The stories in this beautifully-printed little volume are: An Electro-Mechanical Romance, A Sanitary Measure, Under High Pressure, Applied Science, Love and a Lantern, Put Yourself in Her Place, and the Wreck of the Pioneer; with the exception of the second named which is now printed for the first time, they all originally appeared in Scribner's Monthly, Harper's Bazar, the Galaxy, and the Golden Rule. To those who read these curious, novel and entertaining blendings of romance and science, in the original, will seem worthy of purchase, while for any who have not yet read them we can promise a rare treat. It is a charming little volume of odd stories, filled with the fire of romance and much valuable and practical scientific lore, and will doubtless experience a heavy run.

REFLECTIONS.

—Temperance night.

—Hay is coming up—an inch or more a day.

—No service in Trinity church this evening.

—The Catholic Temperance band have a dance this evening.

—Prof. Sovereign closes his season by a calico hop at Apollo hall to-night.

—The assessors are busy, and their advent seems to make folk feel poorer than ever.

—D. H. Williams is out again, after being confined to the house several days by illness.

—Bishop Welles is expected at Brodhead, next Thursday, to confirm several persons there.

—H. M. Hart, the wide-awake agent of the Mutual Life of New York, is in the city for a few days stay.

—Henry Allen's child, aged about five years, fell down a stairs at home night before last, and broke an arm.

—Rev. F. A. Marsh, pastor of the Baptist church at Beloit, was married at Fond du Lac last Wednesday.

—The city officers have had their annual house-cleaning, and the city council chamber now needs a "face treatment."

—Street Commissioner Croft has been putting work onto the Monterey road of late, making a marked improvement in it.

—Henry Conrad, of Bell, Conrad & Co., Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday, looking after business, and greeting friends.

—Rev. A. J. Mead, the presiding elder of Janesville district, was yesterday given the honorary title of Bachelor of Divinity, by Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston.

—In arranging for the observance of Decoration day at Beloit, Dr. H. P. Strong has been chosen President of the day; Col. O. C. Johnson, Marshal; and Cham Ingersoll, assistant.

—Jerry Geran, hailing from Milwaukee, via Monroe, was to-day fined $5 and costs in the Police Court for being drunk. Not being wealthy, he took the alternative of seven days in jail.

—My Geraldine, an excellent play, written by Bartley Campbell, the author of the "Galley Slave," is to be given at the Opera house in this city on the evening of the 21st, by an excellent company.

—Will Hart, the variety show manager, was brought into the Police Court to-day and charged with using abusive language towards Fred Sonborn.

Hart pleaded guilty and paid his fine of $5 and costs, the total amount making a $10 bill seaisick, or look sick.

—The lightning played in dead earnest in the country about Beloit, last Monday. A corner of Len Davies' barn, three miles north of that city, was torn off, and Robert Butler's house, on the river road, was struck, the lightning using the chimney for a rod, and coming down that struck the stove, and glanced off and went through the floor.

—Lote Taylor come over to our city a day or two since and purchased here the largest Newfoundland dog in the country—at any rate, it took two days and five persons, including the conductor, engineer and brakeman to load him all on to the train and transport him to Clinton—Beloit Free Press. To load the dog or to load Taylor? Which?

—The funeral services of the late Mrs. J. A. Denniston were held this afternoon at the family residence on Madison street. Rev. T. P. Sawin officiated and there was a large attendance of neighbors and friends. The occasion was one of unusual tenderness and solemnity and the feeling which marked the services and its attendants, bespoke the fact that those who really sorrow at the death of this worthy woman, form a large circle indeed.

—Hogboon & Atwood have a new ice wagon which takes the cake—of ice. It was made by Hodge & Buchholz in the most durable manner, and has been elegantly painted by J. B. La Grange. Upon its sides appear pictures which are as cooling on a hot day as a reserved seat in a refrigerator. It is in fact a beauty, and is in all respects an appropriate and convenient conveyance for the delivery of chunks of clear frigidity to the panting patrons.

—Those who are interested in the welfare of their souls should read Trulson & Peterson's advertisement found in another column. They keep some very fine goods, and their prices are very low. This firm has established an enviable reputation by their years of square dealing, and their trade seems steadily to increase. They have received a very heavy stock of fine boots and shoes for spring and summer wear, and were never in better shape to care for the wants of their customers than now.

—The body of little Willie Seymour, who was drowned about ten days ago, has not yet been recovered, although a constant search has been kept up ever since. Mr. Seymour and others employed by him have hunted and watched, but thus far without avail. The mother who has been suffering so greatly from the sudden and sad shock, is somewhat better, though she has not recovered entirely from its prostrating effects. It is feared now that the body will not be found, but the search will be kept up for several days longer.

—New stores are being fitted up all around. Green & Rice are making ready to open up their crockery business, but are delayed in getting their stock by the switchmen's strike in Chicago. The large double store in Myers' new block is being fitted up for the removal thither of Bassett, Bliss & Eshlin's stock, and much time and money is being put into the shelvings and counters, which will make this one of the most convenient and commodious stores in the State. Hemstreet, the druggist, is also fitting up his new store next to his present location, and that is to be also a model store for that line of business.

—The demand for the Empire cross springs is so greatly increased that the company is no longer able to keep up with the orders which come pouring in. The trade has doubled since last year, and the rapidity with which it has increased, is proof sufficient not only that the Empire cross spring stands the test of time, and needs only to be seen and used to be appreciated, but also that Janesville is a favorite distributing point and manufacturing center for a large extent of country. The enterprise may now be considered a permanent and growing success, and it takes rank as one of the firmly established and surely valuable industries of this city.

—Dr. C. Louis Martin, in a note to the Gazette, suggests that by the statement made, regarding Mr. Witham's stray colt, some might infer that the Doctor had kept the colt hidden during the year past in which Mr. Witham says he has been hunting for it. Of course those who know Dr. Martin would not think such a thing for a moment. He claims that the colt was advertised in due form, and legally bought by John Hayner, for him, and that he has kept it pastured on the farm grounds, and in the fall put it in the barn, and there was no secrecy or attempted concealment about the fact. He also says that Mr. Witham in his search for the colt never inquired of the poundmaster, for had he done so he could have found his colt very readily.

—James Douglas, the well-known Milwaukee architect, is in the city, arranging for drawing the plans for Mayor Lovejoy's new house. Mr. Douglas is one of the most skillful architects in the country, and scores of the finest houses in Milwaukee stand as proofs of his proficiency and rare good taste. There is already somewhat of a showing of his work in this city, the fine residences of Mr. Bump and Mr. Richard Valentine being designed by him. In building houses, such talent as that shown by Mr. Douglas was employed in designing and planning them, there would be more easy and comfortable houses, and the needed money would be more wisely expended. Mr. J. B. Crosby who is thinking of building, will, in such an event, get his plans probably from Mr. Douglas, and others are having like enterprises under consideration, so that there is promise of there being more of this pleasing showing of architecture here. Even a sprinkling of such houses as Mr. Douglas has built in Milwaukee, even if they were smaller and less expensive, would add much to the appearance of this city.

—In the decision thus far given by Judge Conger in passing upon the several points raised in regard to Marshal Hogan's bill against the county, it appears that there is a line drawn between examinations and trials before a justice. Where the prisoner is committed to jail for the purposes of an examination merely, the arresting officer can, on the verbal order of the justice, bring the prisoner into court, and is entitled to fees for attendance by order of the court. In case of a person committed for trial, however, the prisoner is in custody of the sheriff or keeper of the jail, and said sheriff or jail-keeper has no right to turn the prisoner over to a constable or arresting officer, but either he or his jail-keeper must see to it that the prisoner is brought before the justice and is therefore entitled to the fee for attendance upon court. This has not been the practice here, before there being no such discrimination made, the arresting officer, whether constable or other officer, having often gone to the jail after prisoners committed there for trial, and attended court with them and charged up the fees just the same as though the prisoner was committed for further examination in a case in which the justice has not the power to determine the case.

DECORATION DAY.

The following invitation has been extended by Rev. T. P. Sawin to the Boyer City Rifles and Janesville Guards directed to the captain of each of the companies:

JANESVILLE, Wis., May 11, 1881.

DEAR SIR: The Governor having recommended by proclamation the due observance of Decoration day, it seems fitting that some public notice should be taken of the same. I therefore cordially invite the company under your command to attend divine service at the First Congregational church, on Sunday May 29, at half past ten in the morning when I will preach a sermon appropriate to the services to be held on the following day.

Very truly yours,

T. P. SAWIN.

The invitation has been accepted, the following being the expression of the Guards concerning it, the Rifles taking similar action.

HEADQUARTERS JANESVILLE GUARDS, JANESVILLE, May 13, 1881.

Rev. T. P. Sawin:

DEAR SIR—Your kind invitation to the company to attend Divine service at your church on the morning of May 29th is received and accepted.

Yours truly,

H. A. SMITH,

Captain Janesville Guards.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRACTICE AND EVANSON DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 76 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M., to-day at 67 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M. 64 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock P. M., 70 degrees above. Cloudy.

The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region, fair weather, northerly veering to easterly winds, falling preceded in the eastern portion by rising barometer, and stationery, followed by rising temperature.

IF "cleanliness is the scale of civilization," Janesville must stand high on the scale, judging from the immense quantities of toilet soaps Prentice & Evenson have just received. For pure vegetable oil soaps go to the drug store opposite the post office.

REV. DR. HUNTLEY'S WORK.

There are so many alumni and friends of Lawrence university in this city, and a still larger circle of friends and acquaintances of Rev. Dr. Huntley, the present president, that the following concerning his work, taken from the North-western Christian Advocate, will be read with interest here:

Rev. Dr. Huntley, president of Lawrence university, Appleton, Wis., has been hard at work to place that excellent institution on a better financial basis. The college originally ran into debt through the increase of its teaching corps without a corresponding increase of income. At the present time there is a constant annual deficit of about $4,000 in the expenses of the institution. This deficit Dr. Huntley proposed to sink for at least five years by obtaining subscriptions amounting to $20,000 payable during that period. He has gone before the Wisconsin conference and received their endorsement and subscriptions among their people amounting to half the sum he sought. Dr. Huntley believes that there is little use in trying to get money from the East, which is already loaded with its own burdens of a similar kind. He will make further efforts to secure subscriptions to cover the annual deficit. Should he not succeed in this he will bravely, and we believe wisely, reduce expenses within the receipts of the institution. Dr. Huntley gives his entire time and energies to his educational work. If he does not proclaim a policy of expansion at an expense in dollars he cannot meet, the public may believe he is doing royal thorough college work which makes men and pays its debts. It will be remembered that Lawrence university abolished all tuition fees some time ago. The plan, which will be continued, is successful. The numbers of students have so increased that the ordinary incidental fees amount to more than the sums formerly paid for tuition. We bespeak the day when somebody will build a monument by grand liberality to Lawrence.

CHRONIC DISEASE.—All persons afflicted with chronic disease of the lungs, heart or liver, have their attention called to Dr. Price and his treatment of such diseases. Dr. Price has made them a study for many years, avoids every other form, and pays his whole attention to only those that are chronic. In this way he has become a master of most cases, and yet he never claims more than he can do. He never fails to tell his patient whether he can do any good. His truthfulness is great as his skill. On Saturday the 21st of May Dr. Price will be for consultation at Janesville, Myers House.

How often persons have been annoyed by lumps on their face, neck or clothing, and how seldom have they, when cleaning them, given it a thought that Burdock Root is the most valuable blood cleanser and purifier known, and is sold by every druggist under the name of Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1, trial size 10 cents.

Sold by A. J. Roberts, and Sherer & Co.
